Jodhpur is called the Gateway to Thar, as it is literally on the edge of the Thar Desert. The Mehrangarh Fort dominates the city and is the largest fort in Rajasthan. Founded in 1458 as the site of Rao Jodha's new capital — hence the name, Jodhpur — the city has grown around it, and in the 500 years that have passed the fort has never been taken by force. It occupies the entire top of a 150-meter hill with commanding views all around, with some three kilometers of massive ramparts built around the edges.

Umaid Bhawan Palace is clearly visible to the south of the city and was completed only in 1944, the last great palace built in India.

The city's main shopping street is Nai Sadak, lined mostly with sari and shoe shops leading straight to Sardar Market.
