About Elgin Mount Pandim Resort

The Elgin Mount Pandim offers a unique and personal tryst with the Himalayas. Set in eight acres of virgin forest and landscaped gardens, it evokes the charm created by its previous owners, the royal family of Sikkim - and offers a peaceful retreat about one hundred and fifty kilometers from Siliguri, with a glorious view of the Singalila range. The three- hundred year old Pemayangtse Monastery is right next to the resort on a verdant hill top covered by moist temperate Oak forests.

It offers an excellent vantage point for watching rare birds including the Green-Tailed Sunbirds, Rufous-Gorgeted Flycatchers, Scimitar Babblers and Laughing Thrushes.

Rooms

The Elgin Mount Pandim bedrooms are set in the midst of an atmosphere of greenery in the heart of Pemayangtse. Each of the 32 rooms overlook the Singalila range with a magnificent view from the windows. Each room is different with subtle tasteful colours to showcase the design elements that surrounded royalty of yore. The rooms are quiet, elegant and expansive with an air of serenity about them, which reflects a typical Sikkimese ambiance.

Dining

At the Elgin Mount Pandim dining room enjoy a gourmet's delight as the Kanchenjunga looks over your plate. The Lounge Bar is cozy and well stocked in a range of Sikkimese drinks like Tongba (Millet Fermented Beer). The dining room and lounge bar make a perfect setting for a good meal or the finest traditional cuisine in an environment overhung with the aroma of exotic spices.

Sikkim has its own unique dietary culture with specific cuisine and food recipes. Momo, steamed dumpling prepared from wheat flour and meat and vegetable is a famous dish.
